Foreword

And thus another volume of the X-Ray comes into existence at our dear old College. Weeks of work and worry, days of despair, and moments of misgivings on the part of the 1931 Staff fade into inaudious oblivion now as this year book is presented to you for your careful judgement. We have labored long and hard to bring to you a picture of life at the Medical College of Virginia and submit this volume with the sole hope that in the advancing years it may bring to you some pleasant reminiscences and renew old friendships through the medium of photography.

To us it seemed very appropriate that the Egyptian theme should be used for the decorations as we claim the proud heritage of our Egyptian Building and the early advances made in Medicine in the land of the sacred Nile.

In Memoriam

Dr. J. G. Carter, associate in obstetrics and instructor in gynecology, died June 27, 1930. His earnest devotion to duty, both as clinician and teacher, made his service to the institution of increasing importance.

Dr. J. Garnett Nelaur, professor of clinical medicine, died March 30, 1930. Distinguished internist and teacher of exceptional ability, he touched student life with ideals, knowledge and skill never to be forgotten.

Dr. Richard C. Walden, professor of periodontia, died October 11, 1930, respected and admired for his keenness of mind, intellect, and unselfish devotion to the institution. Dr. Walden was a member of the first faculty of the School of Dentistry instituted in 1897, occupying many important chairs during his long period of faithful service. His life work was truly an achievement; his death an irreparable loss.

The United States History of the Class of 1931

In the far distant past, way back in 1927, a number of Fords, trains and ships set out from the Homeland with their precious cargoes of Pilgrim Freshmen in search of medical knowledge. After a long and perilous trip the brave little party of eighty-eight landed at McGuire Hall, Richmond, Va. Much could be told of the hardships of that first terrible winter; of how they struggled against the elements and the terminology of Gray’s Anatomy; of how they fought the savage Indians and their big chief “Biochemistry;” of how they strove with “stiffs” and “scopes;” but under the able leadership of the stout-hearted “Fathers” Osterud, Skinner and Negus, the long, hard winter was endured with but few tragedies. Spring opened up with promise, but in late May there occurred that terrible “Massacre” known for many years as final exams.

As the group began to get more accustomed to their new world they decided they needed more freedom, so in 1928 the war of independence was waged, but the forces of Charlie Haskell were stronger than the colonists had anticipated and the struggle dragged on until the following spring.

Then came the great gold rush of ’29 when the aspiring juniors rushed into the dispensary with the cry “Thars patients in them thar halls” and truly a wealth of clinical material was found there.

By the fall of 1929 the slave trade in class offices was becoming a vital problem and the whole country of American juniors was fast dividing itself into clique and non-clique. Civil war tore assunder the strong union, but it was only for a short time, and the result was a stronger and firmer union to withstand those trying days of reconstruction. Long hours of classes and tired gluteals were the bonds of fellowship which knit more perfect fellowship.

Then followed the great business depression of 1930 due largely to Emory Hill’s “Eye,” Bigger’s Surgery and Porter’s Medical Conferences, but spring came up upon a hopeful class of prospective doctors—all prospecting for an M.D. degree.

HISTORY

And now, dear readers, before glancing on, I beseech you to scrutinize each picture on the following pages and you will note "what a whale of difference a few gents make." I trust that you are overwhelmed with our confidence inspiring faces, well posed and snapped "per Foster." And now that we are all acquainted you may be curious to know what has happened to us since last June. We returned in the fall all tanned and in the pink of condition ready to conquer the impossible in any phase of dentistry. We were confronted at once with a new course known as "Kindergarten Dentistry." The one about the Three Little Bears seemed to be a better anesthetic than novacaine itself. Resolved: Birth control should be enforced. To combat our difficulty here the school furnished us with excellent equipment. Never did it occur to us before how smoothly and quickly an electric unit did the work. It was indeed a pleasure to work in this clinic and we are very thankful for the experience gained through our contact with the youngsters.

The year was still young when out of our midst arose several new improvements in dental appliances and restorations. The "whistling denture" was perfected by a member of our class and he clings to the secret of its construction like an "overhang at the gingival." Additional retention for partial dentures was made practical by passing an arm of the clasp through the tongue. The results are very pleasing. As yet no one of us has devised a suitable technique for soldering bridges in the patients' mouths.

As the year passed on we worked persistently, aiming to please our patients and rendering them the best service possible. And now the year comes to a close and we will depart, feeling confident and honored to practice dentistry in the same illustrious manner as our professors imparted the profession to us.

In closing we wish to express our appreciation to the Dental Faculty for their co-operation and teachings and may each of us practice dentistry with the same ideals so rigidly upheld by these men.

Historian.

HISTORY

State: Virginia  Date: November 19, 1930
Township: Richmond

Last Will and Testament:

We, the Senior students of the Nursing School of the Medical College of Virginia, of wide renown for our scintillating wit, brilliant intellect and ribald laughter, who are now on the verge of emerging from our protective shell to bestow forever to suffering humanity that art and aid, the practice of nursing, in whose cause we have been harbored for three eventful years.

SECTION I

Article 1. To our Alma Mater we do leave our love and gratitude for the protection and knowledge we have gained from her.

Article 2. To the faculty we bequeath our puzzled and astonished physiognomies and the echoes of the verbal utterances and the actual computation of the editions of wit and skill that have issued “out of the mouths of babes.”

SECTION II

Article 1. To the Class of ’32 we leave the care of Cabaniss Hall, that masterpiece of protective architecture which was first invaded and defaced by us. And to the members of the willing servile race we leave the mopping of the debris which we cast behind us, e. i., certain black cotton hose, one anatomy book and a copy of Drugs and Solutions, well worn.

SECTION III

Article 1. To the general public we leave our good will and co-operation that the Daughters of Aesculapius be not without representation in the courts of the Great Physician. For of what we sought we have found a part and what we found we give unto their service.

SECTION IV

Article 1. And to those who may join our ranks hereafter we leave council and a brief record of our life. We staggered into the clinic and found early one September morn with Miss Geraldine Mew as shepherdess and we are told that the curses and misgivings of our potential instructors made the welkin ring. But e’er a year had passed we entered into the custody of Miss Dorothy Sutton, from whom we learned much of wariness and economy and actual nursing.

In our senior year we have grown more intimate with and learned to love our dean, Miss Helen Zeigler, who entered with us as freshmen and has upheld our interests loyally. We ask that you carry on with gratitude the nature of our fearless hearts as we looked with reverence at Dr. LaRoque’s spectacles over an open abdomen, or at Bill Porter’s stethoscope, or at the ring on Dr. Ware’s right hand.

SECTION V

Article 1. To the Senior Classes in Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy, our co-sufferers in hardship and disappointment and our brothers in success and realization, we do will our sincere wishes for a most prosperous future. To others who may follow in our stead we leave the isolated loneliness of the epidemic mumps which laid low many of our members, and many of those who offered pickles to the afflicted. And may we counsel them that with all its virtues, the practice of initiating freshmen nurses is an unhealthy and unwise habit of which they had better steer clear.

In witness whereof we set our sign and seal, this the 19th day of November, nineteen hundred and thirty.

(Signed) J. Sinclair, Scribe.
To express our appreciation of

Miss Geraldine Mew

whose noble life will always be an example to inspire us to greater things.

HISTORY

On September of the year 1928, the Medical College of Virginia, an old “Fortress” that guards the entrance to a domain called the “Practice of Medicine,” and holds within its walls those “passports” which allow the bearers to become Doctors of Medicine, was besieged by an “army” of volunteers, 88 strong, assembled from Virginia and neighboring states, in an attempt to break through those barriers of first defense known as quizzes and examinations and wrest those treasured degrees from the garrison. This “army” was composed of warriors, tried and true, who had been victorious in many a long, hard fought battle in academic “crusades” and from the beginning it was a hand to hand fight with ignorance. This “crusade” is still in progress after three years.

In the first year the valiant “warriors” waged a furious battle against the dreaded foes Anatomy, Biochemistry, Histology, and Embryology. After using all the tact and strategy at hand to entrap these “enemies,” the struggle often lasting far into the night, they were at last conquered and forced to surrender in the latter part of May, 1929. Many were wounded in this campaign, but only five succumbed to the injuries sustained in “battle.”

After a scattered encampment in which the “soldiers” renewed their financial “ammunition” and strengthened their morale, they began the second “campaign” in the fall of 1929 with an undefeatable determination and three reinforcements. In the “State of Sophomore Year” there were five strategic points occupied by Bacteriology, Physiology, Neural Anatomy, Pharmacology, and Pathology that had to be taken in order to approach the boundaries of Junior Year. Two of the bloodiest battles of this “campaign” were fought in the Egyptian region. These strongholds, after a stubborn resistance, gave up their spoils in A’s, B’s, C’s, and D’s, but not before fatally “wounding” six of the “invaders.”

After another encampment the remaining veterans and 15 reinforcements are waging the third “campaign.” More barriers hinder the “march” than ever before and many men will fall before the next encampment. But the obstacles are slowly giving way to this “army” called Junior Class and the inner fortress, with its banners emblazoned with M.D. can be seen across the territory of Senior Year.

Many times when the “fighting” was light on the Clay St. “front,” dress parades were held at the Chesterfield, Commonwealth, and other “drill fields,” as well as numerous single-handed invasions of Richmond parlors.

Junior Class in Dentistry

HISTORY

ABOUT THE MIDDLE of September 1928, the Class of '32 started on its first voyage with a crew of 42 under the leadership of Captain Reynolds. All of the crew embarked ready and eager with no thought of whether the sea would be rough or smooth. It proved none too smooth, however, as we had not gone very far before we began to lose some of the members of our crew. Our Captain finally gave up the ship, and an able-bodied seaman, no other than John Todd, stepped forward and took the wheel. John had had quite a bit of experience with ships, especially on land, as he has been “head man” in a big shipyard for many summers. He proved to be a capable leader and under his guidance we went through a most successful year. The first cruise ended in May 1929.

In September after leave the crew that returned to duty were fewer in number but higher in calibre. We had added to our list three members from other ships. With 32 members in the crew we launched forth on the open sea again, confident that no ill could befall us for we were sage Sophomores. We explored unknown waters that were entirely new to us, but with experienced men and Bob Long as our Captain, who proved himself worthy of the responsibility, we made our voyage with very little loss of crew. In athletics we were well represented on the varsity basketball, baseball and tennis teams, as well as running a close second place in the intramural basketball championship.

Cecil Rogers is our Captain this year. Reliable and dependable always, he has quickly shown us that he could stem the ship through almost any difficulty. We have the same number in our crew as we have four more added to our list from other ships. We find ourselves venturing farther into yet undiscovered waters such as Pathology, Exodontia, and the long looked for Infirmary where we can put into practice what we have already learned. We soon found that the mouth is much smaller than we had any idea it would be, and filling a cavity on the distal of an upper third molar was not quite as easy as filling a plaster model. The art of scaling was our first job, and although we just scraped blindly not knowing what we were doing or having any idea when we had finished, we soon found out that we had only jumped from one tooth to another getting off a little calculus here and there. After being “ridden” a couple of times by an Instructor, we began to realize that it was something there to be gotten off and we must get it off if we had to scrape away all of the gum tissue in doing so; and finally one day we leave the Infirmary with an air of superiority, because someone has said, “All right, where is your daily progress slip?”

The class has seemed to take a great deal of interest in athletics. Everywhere we find some one hunting for a sucker saying, “I betcha,” and “How many points will you gim’me?” Then there is a hard shake and someone is sucked in again.

With the feeling of conquerors we sail on determined to make this a successful voyage, and hoping that none of the crew will give up the ship, but return next year for our last voyage together and make it the greatest of all cruises.

HISTORY

In the fall of 1929 eighteen girls in far distant places were all thinking of one thing, and one certain date, September 16th. For on that date we would be entering the School of Nursing at the Medical College of Virginia.

Arriving here we found, strange to say, that all eighteen seemed to have one thought in common. That was wondering what the four months of probation days would bring forth.

A few weeks found some of our girls missing. They had made the decision that nursing was not their calling.

The rest of the class struggled on for four months, at the end of which time we had eighteen new members added. These, too, came with high hopes and ambitions. Some of these girls made the same decision that is made by some in almost every class, even after they had received their caps for which all had worked so hard.

Each day we traveled and worked until at last we have reached our second heighth—Juniorhood. Looking back we have found our work a pleasure.

We find ourselves still working and seeking for the end that at first seemed so far. The way is still steep, but by keeping in view that success which always comes to him that is true to his aim, we hope in the end to reach our goal—Seniordom.

HISTORY

With summer and vacation behind us, September found the various members of the Sophomore Medical Class convening in Richmond, renewing old friendships and making new ones. We had come back to work with renewed vim and energy. We were not sure, but we felt that we had gained a slightly more mature viewpoint, and then, of course, we were Upperclassmen. Sophomores if you please, those great and mighty creatures who know so much and so little!

By the time all hands had been shaken, noses had been counted and we discovered that, though we still numbered eighty odd, we had lost some of our classmates and had gained new ones to fill their places.

After a bit we were all in harness again and work proceeded at a gallop. Time passed so quickly that before we knew it Thanksgiving was at hand offering a breathing space and a possible chance to catch up with ourselves. Bacteriology, Physiology, Neural Anatomy, Pathology, all had to be assimilated and stored away for future reference. Later on we had to negotiate Pharmacology, Surgery and more Pathology. Sometimes we paused to wonder what we would do with it all when we got it! Finally, though, things began to take shape and fit together into a unified whole and we could see that everything had its place after all.

Now as we close this chapter of our class history it is fitting that we express to the Faculty, with whom we have worked, our appreciation of their untiring, persistent efforts to teach us and to help us to work out our problems. It is association with men of their caliber that serves to spur us on to greater efforts on our part.

HISTORY

SLEEP, it is a gentle thing, beloved from pole to pole.” Shakespeare, if he thought such a thing, included the Sophs-Dents. What a sleepy, dissipated looking bunch herder at McGuire Hall in September! But we easily slipped back into the old routine of regular hours. How refreshing a short siesta is. But, gentlemen, this is a serious history of the class. And as such we must consider events in chronological order. “Buy now and bring prosperity back” was evidently our slogan. We hope the supply houses have enjoyed prosperity at our expense. Someone has written that “thars gold in them thar hills,” but where are those hills? If we could only find them!

However, we, the Class of '33, draw the conclusion that we are hereby permanently attached to ol' M. C. V. In our freshman year we were wondering how we could manage to get back this year, but, lo and behold, about one-third of the class were back one week prior to the opening of school (through special invitation). We find that things have changed around school quite a bit: Last year we went to the mail box for mail; this year we go looking for bills. Last year we kept ourselves busy trying to puzzle out our professional problems—setting up teeth, etc.; this year the real mystery is why we ever ventured so far as to study dentistry. Wouldn’t we like to know who suggested our motive.

Some few bold and brave members of the class attempted to start the year out right by disbanding “The Royal Order of Snakes.” It worked fine until some prime—member of the class—decided he wanted to lead the class. The order was thus reorganized and thus it remains.

We are gradually becoming accustomed to the noises of the laboratory. Mainly the conglomeration of sound waves produced by the rattle of our egg beaters and the chatter of our professors.

We were very much impressed with our first assembly. A most significant dismissal left us deeply moved. It included these words: “Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget.” Later after a prosthetic quiz (which, by the way, was very humiliating) several of the students left the room with these words on their lips: “Lord God of Hosts was with us not, for we forgot, for we forgot.”

This year we were presented with new lockers. We indeed appreciate this much needed addition, but everything has its faults. The result is when the class and the lockers are both in the hall at the same time, there is no passageway. Then seems to be the opportune time for some of our hefty classmates to make a touchdown. Hence, we have broken everything from several necks on down through about five of the Ten Commandments.

We try to make the best of our problems, but what bewilders us is—how are we to rid cavities of shavings in the patient’s mouth by sudden expiration of the lungs as is practiced on the models when we were taught in grammar schools not to blow our breath in others’ faces.

But all in all, we have enjoyed the year very much, thanks to our receptions, dances, fellowman’s likker, etc. Long live the record forty-five minute man! Three cheers for him and the other champions of the class who excel in other activities; e. g., music, athletics, art, and consolidations or united. Whose motto is “UNTIED we stand, divided we fall?” And we strive on with bold heart to that distant GOLD.

Freshman Class in Medicine

HISTORY

ON THE NEEDLESSLY hot day of September 18th, 1930, the Freshmen Medical Class met for the first time. We perched on the very highest seats of the Auditorium and looked around, and especially down, apprehensively. The majority had a subdued feeling, due both to a puzzled glance through several new and extremely competent looking books, and the memory of the big check for the microscope.

The class consisted of eighty-two Eds and three Co-eds. About two-thirds of the class were from the Old Dominion; the others came from various other states and one from Porto Rico. They represented thirty-four colleges or universities, from which thirty-nine students were graduates.

Not every class is good enough to get both a written and a practical quiz two days after school begins! But that is the kind of class the First Year is!

Moreover we did so well on it that the faculty had to have a special meeting to plan how they could possibly keep us busy. We must admit that they succeeded nobly! Also we were given an extra subject each semester. But that had been planned even before we came—due, of course, to realization of our great promise!

However, there are a few things that we do not understand yet. Chief of them is why the Sophomores know more than anyone else. We hope to understand even that difficult problem next year, after our minds have had a nice long rest and we are a year older.

During that first week we realized that there was plenty of hard work ahead of us; we made, and have many times since had to remake, good resolutions in regard to the use of time. We learned that more work was required than we had ever thought ourselves capable of—and somehow became capable of it.

As we struggled along, often tired and discouraged, we were helped, and stimulated, and inspired by our teachers of ability and sympathy.

Our members are studying medicine because we knew that we would not be satisfied doing anything else; we realized that almost anything else would be more profitable in a worldly sense, and easier. A good proportion of us are working our way, partially or entirely—which is a strong enough obstacle to indicate a tremendous desire.

We are well prepared; we have favorable surroundings; we are doing our best—may the stars be propitious!

HISTORY

SLOWLY walking through those spacious rooms of the college, trying to get acquainted with each other, familiarizing themselves with the new Alma Mater, was just the way in which September found a group of twenty-eight students—the Freshman Dents of 1930.

Not very long after we had started, dances, smokers, banquets, and receptions were offered to us. That seemed just like a gradual fading off of a jelly summer and the good times we enjoyed meeting the upperclassmen shall never be forgotten.

But soon we realized that the work ahead of us was a little different from the one we had before and that we had to breathe deeper and deeper every day to pronounce the word—Histology. Although we are not through with it yet, we are not discouraged since there are plenty more "ologies" coming to meet us with open arms and a mean look in their faces.

We can say that every hour that goes by does not simply mean an hour of tiresome work, but sixty pleasant and enjoyable minutes.

This is the history, if there is one, of a small class with high hopes that just started. We began struggling and struggling we want to remain until the end.

Jonah L. Larrick

In the school life of the Medical College of Virginia there is a man with whom everyone comes in contact in one way or another and usually that first contact is made in the very first few days of school. From then on Jonah knows you; from then on Jonah helps you, and when there is anything to be done for the students and no one wants to do it, Jonah does it! It would require a whole volume of the X-Ray, or any other book, to tell all of the things which this man does for the students—from writing them letters before they arrive to holding their checks till after they are gone. What more could any one man do for the students of M. C. V. than “Father” Larrick does for you and me?

Therefore, we are taking this means, as a student body, to tell the world that we love and appreciate the ever-ready help and council of

JONAH LUPTON LARRICK

The Revelers

We do not deem it necessary to repeat the history of the Revelers of the Medical College of Virginia from its origin as the "brain child" of Doctor "Billy" Southward through the five years of its steady progress, but feel that this space should be devoted to a rehearsal of this, its sixth year of existence.

Through the instigation of Miss Frances Zeigler and the interest of the student nurses a new department has been incorporated into the Revelers. This is a Glee Club for the nurses under the directorship of Chase Gage. Such rapid progress was made that they were able to make a public appearance in the early part of the year and great things are expected from them in the future.

L. W. Moore has shown his ability by organizing a sextette to take the place of the quartette of the past years. They have made several appearances at the Student Assemblies and Y. M. C. A. functions.

Our orchestra under the baton of R. O. Halloran has carried on their fine work by playing at the various school and Y. M. C. A. activities as well as playing over WRVA, where they were well received, judging from the letters which requested that they be heard more often.

The Dramatic Club, headed by H. L. C. Wilkerson, had some difficulty in finding a suitable vehicle, but soon got off to a good start with "Change Partners" and "Brown, Brown and Brown."

We want to thank every member of the Revelers for their efforts in making this our most successful year and particularly do we want to express our appreciation to the directors: H. L. C. Wilkerson of the Dramatic Club, R. O. Halloran of the orchestra, L. W. Moore of the sextette, and Chase Gage of the Glee Club, for their untiring support and the Faculty Advisory Committee, Miss Frances H. Zeigler, Dr. Greer Baughman, Dr. W. T. Sanger, and Dr. W. G. Crockett, for their encouragement and hearty co-operation. We also wish to convey thanks to Jonah Larrick for his enthusiastic interest and aid.

Motto: Pharmacy to the Front

The Mortar and Pestle Club this year has taken a great step forward. An extensive activity program has been planned, several out-of-state colleges have been scheduled for debates throughout the year. A constitution and by-laws has been adopted and is now in effect. The Club Insignia is symbolic of pharmacy and is now to be worn in the form of a key.

R. D. BUTTERWORTH
President Athletic Association
Dr. Parker graduated from the University College of Medicine in 1895.

Dr. Parker became graduate manager of athletics at the Medical College of Virginia in 1924 under the new regime, hence holding the unique distinction of being the first and only man to officiate in the capacity. He has performed the duties of this office to the top notch and we know M. C. V. athletics shall continue to be the best as long as Dr. William H. Parker is in charge.

J. B. Todd

Coast

John Todd comes to us from William and Mary, entering dentistry. There John was a four-letter man and one of the best football players ever to leave the portals of that institution.

Todd has tutored the basketball and baseball squads with success by his untiring efforts of ability and talent for mixing and understanding his men.

John is now a junior in dentistry, hence has one more year as mentor at M. C. V. We know that that year will be even greater than the preceding ones.
Basketball

Coach John Todd called practice for the 1930-'31 basketball squad the first of December. The material was good and the spirit unexcelled.

The first string men consisted of the Banks brothers—Lett, Lawson, Oliver, L. Todd, Byrd, Casagrande and Meadows. The remaining players did well in the pinches.

The team broke about even in the won and lost column. The team work and spirit of the team throughout the season could not have been better.

The boys had a great time when they motored to Washington, and from hearing them talk we think they played a portion of Arlington Hall.

Much credit should go to the Junior Varsity for whipping the varsity into shape. We all thank Coach Todd for the good team he developed.
Intramural Champions

The Junior Meds kept the cup in the Medical School by successfully defending their goal and dropping the ball in the opponent's basket. The Senior Meds did not put a team on the floor because of the undergraduate internships they held. However, the juniors had one of the best class teams ever seen in action at M. C. V. The team consisted of Byrd, Casagrande, Eaves, Hillsman, Mirmelstein, Penn, and L. Todd. The Junior-Soph Dents were runners-up.

Sawbonettes, 1931

The basketball season started for the M. C. V. girls in the latter part of November when fifteen girls answered the call of Coach Brandenburger. Only three girls reported that were on last year’s team, the others having been lost by graduation. However, the freshman candidates came in to help bear the attack. With much coaching and practice the coach put a real team on the floor which consisted of Manager Hill, Captain Bolling, Williams, Bush, Keever, Padsbury, Lacy, Vaughan, Raper, and Skinner. The substitutes were always at their best when called into action.

The schedule was hard but a very good one. The outstanding feature of the year was the trip to Blackstone, on which everyone had the very best of times. Here’s hoping we can have more bus trips like this one.

Much praise must be given the first year girls—Keever, Lacy, Vaughan, and Raper—for the success of the team.
Baseball, 1930

We had a fair baseball season in 1930, playing .500 ball. The season would have been a great one had the infield not cracked at inopportune times. The offense was great, but the defense was bad at times.

Nevertheless, the fighting spirit was the best that has ever been manifested at M. C. V. and the boys sure did give Coach Todd everything they had.

The schedule was a very good one, including V. M. I. and University of Richmond.

The new pitchers, Meadows and Pulliam, were great factors, as Spencer had a bad year due to a sore arm. There were no outstanding men other than the whole team.

Prospects are bright for a good season in 1931, with Butterworth, Daniel, DeBusk, J. McCall, McCain, and Spencer playing their last year with hopes of making it their best year. Senior "Pud" Smith will tender his best services as manager. A vast amount of new material is available from all three schools.

Tennis, 1930

The 1930 tennis team did well on the court. The team won from Lynchburg, University of Richmond, Seminary, Roanoke, Lynchburg Country Club, and Seminary, while they lost only to Hampden-Sidney, William and Mary, and the University of Virginia.

The whole team played bang-up matches, with Waugh and Lawson always coming through with a win. Too, Davis, Garrard, Copenhaver, and Hillsman performed well.

Prospects seem good for 1931 with all the old men back except Copenhaver and lots of new material to show their ability.

The 1931 schedule will include, in addition to the above teams, Washington and Lee, Juniata, and V. M. I.

Golf

This sport which was first introduced into the college in the year 1928-29 has developed into a regular branch of the athletics. After a short but very interesting tournament in which Duval, Senior Med., became the first golf champion of the college, it was decided to make the tournament an annual affair.

Last year a second tournament was announced and a large number of golfers responded, which resulted in several very hot and closely contested matches with "Doc" Ralston defeating Traynham in the finals and winning the gold medal offered each year by the Athletic Association of the College. The tournament uncovered a very formidable array of golfers. All matches proved very interesting and the A. A. was well pleased with the showing made by its first golf team and awarded them letters at the annual monogram banquet.

This year more interest than ever was shown in the tournament with thirty-four answering the first call. Croom came through over Traynham for the gold medal emblematic of the school championship. Tarrant, Heartwell, and Kerlin were others to win places on the squad as a result of the tournament. A four-man team will be used for each match.

A very extensive schedule is being arranged with the leading teams of the state with two good trips in view. The team is showing vast improvement and the athletic association has made the members of the squad members of the Hermitage Country Club, which will afford them one of the best clubs of the city for practice, pleasure, and matches.
Wrestling

M. C. V. broke about even in the mat game in its first year. The team split with William and Mary, held a slight margin over Randolph-Macon, and lost to the University of Virginia. Garrard won the 125-pound class in the N. A. A. meet held at Baltimore.

Greater things will come to pass on the 1931 mat with the whole team back for hard work with a good schedule consisting of matches with William and Mary, Randolph-Macon, Washington and Lee, George Washington, etc.

Especially noteworthy in the matches last year was the grappling of Clark, Cardwell and Garrard.

Apostrophe to the Skull

"Decaying sanctuary crumbling to the Dust
  Throne room to the long departed Soul
What varagies of Virtue or of Lust
  Within your recent confines did you Hold?"

"What conquest fought or lost or Won—
  What o'er mastering love or burning hate,
Unspoken still, consumed itself to ash
  Upon the altars of your erstwhile state?"

"Who knows, but in these fast decaying walls
  There once held sway the superhuman mind,
Which knew, thru its mysterious conjurries,
  The secret thoughts denied the Human Kind?"

"What of visions fair and beautiful
  Did these now sightless orbs decay;
What sordid human frailties came
  Within the compass of the busy eye?"

"What falsehoods uttered then; what truths
  Enunciacted by the clamorous tongue,
That once within these silent caverns cast,
  Unguarded and vociferously rung?"

"But, all these have fled. The secrets held
  Imprisoned within your crumbling vaults,
Pass unlearned—were they so pregnant then
  With potential charities or faults?"

"And then Wearied, Life passes on—the while
  Grim Death and dissolution and Decay
Consumed the vibrant flesh and bosed
  The shackled and imprisoned soul astray."

"Sic transit gloria mundi—and so we all
  Cast from this weak imperfect Flesh decay
  And are hurled into eternity's myriad years,
  Of which our little life is but a Day."

"And thou art left alone, O'Skull—untenanted
  Save by the squirming denizens of the sod—
A gruesome symbol of Man's transitory state,
  And mute evidence of the Omnipresent God."

An Alumnus.

We Take This Means of Expressing Our Appreciation of the People Who Have Been of Inestimable Aid in the Production of the 1931 X-Ray

Mrs. J. T. Hester

This is the little lady at Foster's who sees that you get good service on your pictures and if you are not satisfied she just smiles and has the work done all over. Of course she takes your money, too.

Mr. R. G. Benson

None of us ever see this fellow, but he is the real power behind the annual. He handles all the work of the printing company that pertains to the X-Ray. His personal interest, courteous and efficient service and his patience with the editor make him an indispensable part of the year book.

Mr. C. W. Bateman

About once or twice in a blue moon this fellow gets to see us. He is responsible for the clear, smooth, high-grade engravings that appear in this book. His promptness and attention to detail are among his outstanding traits.

Mr. W. C. Whitaker

This fellow does all the dirty work at Foster's. His work is the printing and mounting of most of the pictures, and if you think he has an easy job just try to check on seven hundred people and see that every name and face is correct.

Mr. W. A. Daniel

Most of you never see this fellow, but it is he that helps to plan the annual and see that the plans are correctly carried out. He makes the invaluable "service calls" and gives us the necessary technical information, as well as lots of new ideas.

Mr. Max Freydeck

Dependability is the keyword of Mr. Freydeck's services. When a picture is to be made at some unusual hour all he needs is a few minutes notice and he will be there on time. The group pictures are credited to his art.

OF the old philosophers is credited with having said, "After all we do those things which we really want to do."

An analysis of our conduct from day to day really proves the correctness of this philosophy. Our accomplishments, yours and mine, are the direct result of a determination to accomplish.

Strange to relate, many of the world's greatest accomplishments are the outgrowth of dreams — sometimes just day dreams. Dreams only become realities when the dreamer has the determination to see them through.

The idea that you would attend Dental College and become a member of a noble profession was, at one time, more or less a dream. Remember? You possessed the determination to make that dream a reality.

And peculiar as it might seem, all of the time that you have been accomplishing your object, you have been dreaming of other things — among them a successful professional career.

Your ability to make this dream a reality again depends upon your determination; however, you must not handicap yourself by an uncomplimentary introduction to your patients.

Remember —

"A dentist is accepted by his patients as being as modern as his surroundings indicate."

Ritter's 40 years of experience is yours for the asking.

Longfellow in the D. and S. Clinic

The shades of night were falling fast
When through my fevered brain there passed
A word I’d heard a doctor use—
“A word the common folks abuse—
’Twas Salvarsan!

Far back in youth I’d had my fling,
And now must pay for everything;
Bright lights and sparkling wines and such
Today are costing me too much
In Salvarsan!

My step is slow and not so true,
My blood is surcharged thru and thru
With spirochetes of deadly fame,
My only hope is in the name
Of Salvarsan!

My skin is red with coppery rash,
My gums all bleed and teeth all gnash;
My throat is gray with mucus spots,
And both arms ache from many shots
Of Salvarsan!

My pupils won’t react to light,
My saddle-nose is such a fright;
My Wasserman came back “four plus,”
The verdict is unanimous
For Salvarsan!

Valentine’s Meat-Juice

The Power of Valentine’s Meat-Juice in Quieting the Irritable Stomach, Aiding the Digestion, Restoring the Appetite and Sustaining and Strengthening has been demonstrated by many Medical Men in the treatment of Anaemia, Exhaustion and Debility.

Dr. Antonio Navarro Fernandez, Physician San Juan de Dios Hospital, Madrid, Spain: “Valentine’s Meat-Juice has proved of great importance in treating patients suffering with Dystrophia and in cases of Anaemia caused by Syphilis. I find it most efficacious in treating patients after operations of all kinds.”

John Keay, Medical Officer in Charge, Edinburgh War Hospital, Edinburgh, Scotland: “The Valentine’s Meat-Juice has been in this Hospital, and in cases of extreme exhaustion from sickness or wounds has been found a stimulant and food of great value.”

PRESCRIPTION FOR MEDICAL MEN

Time and skill constitute the major portion of a medical man's capital.

As this capital is depleted by the passing of years, it must be replaced, through some form of savings, if the good doctor would retire and spend his declining years in comfort.

By no method can such replacement of earning power be so easily and safely effected as through our various Retirement Income plans.

In a crowded hall a little Irishman rose to his feet and asked in stentorian tones: "Is there a Christian Scientist in the hall?"

Receiving no answer, he repeated his question, and over in the opposite corner, up front, a poetical looking little fellow stood up and said, "I am a Christian Scientist."

"Then would ye mind changing seats with me? There's a draft on me back."

Heinie: "I know she's a nice girl."
Buddy: "How?"
Heinie: "Betts said so."

Pud: "Will you marry me?"
Heiress: "No, I'm afraid not."
Pud: "Oh, come on, be a support."

He: "Are you fond of moving pictures, Jennie?"
She (hopefully): "Aye, Sandy."
He: "Then maybe, lass, ye'll help me get half-a-dozen doon out of the attic."

Major Anderson: "Suppose a large army camp had a dairy. What department would do the milking?"
Amory: "The Collecting Company, sir."

Wishes to express its appreciation of the co-operation and good will of its ADVERTISERS
The firms herein advertised have helped to make possible this edition of the School Annual and we recommend them to you unreservedly as responsible and reliable firms who deserve any patronage that you might be able to give them. Co-operate with them as they have co-operated with us, and mention the X-RAY.

And now, Fellow Students, Alumni, and Friends, you have reviewed another year of the student life of the Medical College of Virginia as best we could depict it. We have striven to give you an accurate picture. We realize there are errors, and for these we apologize. We hope there are successes, and for these we thank the co-operation you have given us. The 1931 X-RAY wishes you the greatest success and good fortune that can come your way. With the sole hope that this volume has given you as much pleasure in the reading as it has given us in the preparation, we bid you all—Farewell!
